

BARON TAKES TRIP
ON READING ENGINE

READING, Pa., May 2.—Freiherr von Rhenbaben, minister of finance and minister of state of the Prussian government, through the courtesy of Reading Railway officials, was given a ride on a special engine through the North Penn, East Penn, and Lebanon Valleys. After visiting the Bethlehem Steel Works they came to Reading. In speaking of his visit to America, Minister Rhenbaben said, "I have often wished to see something of the industries of the United States. My visit is largely for the purpose of studying the economic conditions of your country. I have not been charged by my government to do this; it is entirely my own notion. I am more anxious to study your industries since your country has assumed such prominence and is leading the world in so many lines of manufacture."
